INVENTOR OF THE "RICKEY"

Colonel Rickey's Story of the Birth of the Famous Beverage.

It was in Washington that the late Colonel Joseph Kyle Rickey came into national prominence, for it was while there as a lobbyist that he invented the famous "Rickey," says the New York American. In the past Colonel Rickey often told of the birth of the famous beverage.

"It was in Shoemaker's at Washington with George Williamson at the bar," he often said, "that the first Rickey was made. I came in with Colonel Bill Hatch and some other friends, and I wasn't feeling very well. So I said, 'George, I want some bourbon, but I want the drink to be long and cold and mighty sour.' Then I saw some limes on the bar, and I said: 'There you are. That's the thing. Put some lime in it.' And George did it. Colonel Hatch had one with me, and we just smacked our lips. It was delicious and very, very refreshing."

But as to the "gin Rickey," which has also become widely popular, Colonel Rickey time and again denounced any fatherhood of it.

Rickey always contended that the use of rye whisky or gin in a Rickey made it unfit for a gentleman to drink.

OLD AND NEW WAY.

Hyomei the Latest Scientific Discovery For the Cure of Catarrh.

The discovery of Hyomei has wrought a wonderful change in the treatment of catarrh.

Prior to three years ago the medicines ordinarily employed in the cure of this disease were nauseating drugs and worthless tonics. In some instances they benefited, but the improvement was not lasting.

With Hyomei you take into the air passages of the throat and head a balsamic air that goes to the minutest cells, effectually killing all germs and microbes of catarrh. It enters the blood with the oxygen, killing the germs in the blood, and restores health to the whole system.

Many astonishing testimonials have been received from those who have been cured by Hyomei.

N. G. Durham, 23 Wellington St., Boston, Mass., writes: "I have suffered from catarrh for a number of years. I tried Hyomei and found it the only cure for this disease I ever used."

Perhaps the strongest evidence that can be given to doubters is the fact that Rickert & Wells have so much faith in Hyomei that they sell every package under a positive guarantee to refund the money if it does not cure.

Now is the time to begin the use of Hyomei.
